Linda Potter's prologue in the 40th reunion Program:

Some history... On June 15, 1967, the Board of Trustees of the Alfred I. duPont School District granted diplomas to 521 members of the Brandywine High School Class of 1967. At the time, it was the largest class to have graduated from a high school in the history of Delaware. Although the district did not name a valedictorian or salutatorian it did recognize six Distinguished Scholars: Patricia Auspos, Fern Breslow, Deborah Chavenson, William Cornell, Michael Davis, Alan Jones and Richard Plambeck. Sherry Markwalder and Christopher Little were named winners of the Brandywine Awards, which honored students who best personified a well rounded student and leader. At graduation time, ninety percent of our class had plans to continue our educations received at Brandywine.

Brandywine, we sing to thee
Hymns of praise and loyalty
Sons and daughters, staunch and true;
Follow 'neath the white and blue,
Forth we march to bring thee fame,
Spirits light and hearts aflame,
Rich in truth we'll ever be,
Brandywine we sing to thee!

If you were able clear away some of the age-related cobwebs, would you have any memories of graduation night?, if so, what do you remember? If you knew then what you know now, and if you had been asked to give the valedictorian speech, what would you have said? What life lessons have you learned since then? (25 words or less please).
